political scientists and great statesmen to scratch their heads

By Bashir Zikria

REVIEW OF “CONSPIRACIES AND ATROCITIES IN AFGHANIISTAN 1700 - 2014 By Engineer Fazel Ahmed Afghan, MSc.

This recent entry to the market of “Conspiracies and Atrocities in Afghanistan 1700 – 2014” is a much needed scholarly product of thirty years of research, study and eyewitness report on three centuries of Afghan History. The political history of the last four decades makes it especially pertinent for the present. It’s an unbiased, well-documented history of Afghanistan from international sources. Since the “Afghan Conundrum” has been at the forefront of the news media and the need for its resolution has been there for 23 years before American, NATO and ISAF intervention and 14 years since, has become the longest war of the USA and of NATO. The geopolitical and the strategic location of the conflict have added fuel to the fire. Its increasing complexity has caused many astute diplomats, political scientists and great statesmen to scratch their heads! Before attempting to unravel this Gordian knot, we must understand the political history, cultures, and traditions of the peoples of the region as our data to work with and come down by analytic means with a hypothesis which may open the way to an eventual solution. Most of such data is found in political and cultural history. Engineer Fazel A. Afghan, to his great credit, has compiled such data on Afghanistan and the region. For all interested to find out why Afghanistan is called the “Graveyard of Empires” this is a must read.

Very Good, Informative Read

By Waz Charlwood

Was a great read and I learned a lot about my country, Afghanistan, which has a very impressive history. I would recommend this book to all of the younger generation of Afghan descent looking to learn about their heritage and to all non-Afghans wishing to learn more about the country.
